

ACTIVITY – 01

1. Instagram (Social media application)

Why do you think there is a problem?

- Instagram can have a lotta misinformation, fake accounts and the potential to harm people. This includes discrimination, racial harmony and so on. Accounts getting hacked through scams are also a problem of Instagram.

What is happening?

- Users are spreading false information through posts, comments and Instagram stories.

When is it happening?

- It doesn't have a specific time frame for things like this to happen. It usually happens when things that can trigger the society come up.

Where is it happening?

- This is happening throughout social media. In terms of Instagram, it happens on their platform.

Who do you believe is involved?

- users who get involved in these kinds of acts, and the administrators for not regulating these.

Why is it happening?

- Misinformation can be shared for various reasons, including personal beliefs, political agendas, or to generate attention and engagement

2. Gmail (Email Application)

Why do you think there is a problem?

- The frequently receiving spam and scam emails, can be annoying for the users.

What is happening?

- Users are receiving a large volume of unsolicited and irrelevant spam emails in their inbox.

When is it happening?

- It doesn't have a specific time frame for things like this to happen. Spam emails can arrive at any time, but they tend to be more prevalent during certain periods or after signing up for certain services.

Where is it happening?

- The problem occurs within the email application, specifically in the inbox or spam folder of the application.

Who do you believe is involved?

- The individuals or organizations responsible for sending spam emails and the developers of the application for not regulating these spam emails are involved.

Why is it happening?

- Spam emails are sent for various reasons, including advertising products/services, spreading malware, or attempting to scam users.